LADD, WEBSTER & CO.'S
FAMILY
SEWING MACHINES.
ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION
AND Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE
SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction, and easily kept in order; should make a RIGHT LOCK-STITCH, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.
It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk, directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity, and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the tension greater or less, as both the under and upper threads, and with uniformity; and should have a straight needle; curved ones being liable to break.
The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.
It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer; should stitch, fell, run and gather; and always ready to work.
It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk, above or below, to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.
It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam, and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.
It should have a wheel-feed; no others are in constant contact with the work.
It should not be liable to get out of order; neither should it require a screw-driver or wrench to put the needle.
It should not be liable to fill the operator's dress.
It should not form a ridge on the under side, or ravel.

The undersigned are General Agents for the general supervision of these unrivalled machines for Pacific States and Western Coast of Mexico.

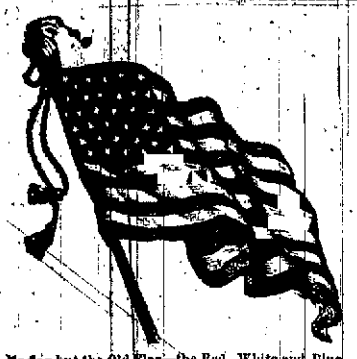
OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.



No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 24, 1862.

The Late Important News.

The last steamer brought us notices of occurrences in the great struggle for national existence, in which our country is engaged, well deserving more particular notice than we were able to give them in Saturday's paper. The dispatches of the 5th March inform us that the work of driving the rebels out of Kentucky is so thoroughly accomplished that no passes are required to travel in any portion of that State. Our troops had marched into Columbus after its evacuation, and 2000 infantry and 400 cavalry now garrison that stronghold, which the rebels used to boast would never be surrendered till the "last man had died in the last ditch." They fled so fast when the news of Union victories came in from Tennessee, that not a fugitive among them would consent to be the "last," and the ditches are quite unoccupied with rebel carcasses. Andy Johnson, confirmed as a Brigadier-General, has formally accepted the military governorship of Tennessee, which he holds at the pleasure of the President, or until the loyal men of the State re-organize a new State government.

Texas reigned in Richmond. The Union victories in North Carolina and Tennessee have smitten the city terribly. They fancy a foe around every corner, and a Union conspiracy in every knot of quiet men. John Minor Botts and a score of other prominent citizens have been thrown into prison on suspicion of wishing well to the good old Constitution they were all sworn to support.

On the 10th of March, Manassas was peacefully occupied by our troops. The flank of the position was turned the day that Banks poured his troops west of the Blue Ridge. From all along the Potomac the rebel army is falling back. Possibly it is to invite Gen. McClellan to "on to Richmond." The Baltimore and Ohio railroad was to be opened on the 16th, and then he may accept the challenge. We have not yet learned where the rebel forces on the Potomac are concentrating.

Commodore Dupont's expedition from Port Royal against Brunswick (Ga.) and Fernandina (Fla.) was a complete success. Brunswick, a port of entry, situated on Turtle river, and the stern terminus of the Brunswick and Florida railroad, was abandoned by the enemy at our approach. All the gunboats but one then pushed on to Fernandina. This town was situated on the north end of Amelia Island, on the coast of Florida, where the St. Mary's Sound separates it from Cumberland Island. Fort Clinch, which cost our Government $170,000, and which has been in the hands of the rebels ever since the insurrection burst out, was easily taken. In it were found 12 large guns and 128 rifled cannon. A rebel steamer, with a fine supply of ammunition, was also captured. Fernandina is an important point, and its loss to the rebels will be severely felt, especially on account of its being the terminus of the railroad that crosses the peninsula south-westerly to the Gulf. It is rumored that Commodore Dupont had gone to the Mississippi to assist in the reduction of New Orleans.

Gen. Curtis followed up Price's army into South-western Arkansas, and compelled him to fight. After three days' of battles Price's army was whipped and fled—leaving killed some three thousand men, and fifteen hundred taken prisoners. The Union forces, under Sigel, were still in pursuit of him.

There has been a terrible naval battle near Fort Monroe, in which the Federals lost two frigates, the Cumberland and Congress. They were attacked by the Merrimac steamer, which had been covered by the rebels with heavy iron—impenetrable to the cannon shot of the frigates. Before the battle was closed the Federal steamer Ericsson, also iron-clad, arrived from New York, and engaged the Merrimac, disabling and compelling her to run under the guns of rebel forts for protection. Though entirely incapable of meeting the Merrimac on any thing like equal terms, our frigates fought to the last.

Gen. Wright, at San Francisco, received a telegraphic dispatch on the 15th, giving a record of a Cabinet Council on the war. This record is signed by President Lincoln. It appears from this, that on the 11th, the Presidential Council agreed to inform the officers of the Department of the Pacific that General McClellan had assumed personal command of the army of the Potomac, and that hereafter, until notice otherwise, the communications from the Generals commanding the various subdivisions, will be sent directly to the Secretary of War, Mr. Stanton, now acting Commander-in-Chief.

The capture of the rebel fort at New Madrid, with all their means of war, by Gen. Pope, is among the great achievements of the last few days. The rebels had concentrated there a vast amount of the materials of war, which was all taken.

The battle in New Mexico was severe, and said to be decisive. Our regular troops there and the troops of New Mexico, covered themselves with glory.

Our secesh papers—among them the indomitable Advertiser—some months ago complained that we had no Generals. Are they satisfied now? We are.

Our European news leaves us no fear of interruption in "conquering a peace" in the South from that quarter. France and England are even satisfied with the sealing up of Charleston harbor. Yancey has got back with the news that the rebels have nothing to hope from Europe.

From Mexico we learn that the Government there and the allies have agreed upon preliminary measures for peace. We judge that certain interior towns are to be garrisoned by the allies, as security for the performance of the treaty on the part of Mexico, which is hereafter to be made. The allies disavow any intention of interfering in the government of the country.

The condition of affairs at the East is cheering to all Union men. The rebels seem to be retreating every where. We doubt not that there will be more battles—but the ultimate accomplishment of what is dear to every patriot heart—the crushing out of the rebellion—cannot be doubted.

What Gen. Stevens is About.—A letter from Port Royal says;

"A reconnoissance in force by Gen. Stevens yesterday, with about six hundred men and part of Hamilton's (late Sherman's) Battery, resulted in clearing the island of the desultory parties of rebels that came over to shoot pickets and burn cotton. These scamps were annoying, without being dangerous, though, if they had been suffered to continue their work of destroying cotton, not a bale would have been left on the island. News had been received of the presence of a troop of rebel cavalry, which it was hoped to cut off; but their retreat was too rapid. Our force was massed in two battalions, with the battery between, and preceded at a distance of a hundred yards by one company as vanguard, in advance of which was a small party of scouts. The military order of this advance, however, was slightly disturbed by the fact that Gen. Stevens and Capt. Hamilton rode some distance in front of the whole party. The march was along the main avenue of the island, known as the shell road, and the ten miles were accomplished in three hours—a creditable pace for volunteers. On the other side of the ferry the enemy were in plain sight, Capt. Hamilton, with a few men, riding down nearly to the end of the causeway which crosses the marsh and forms the only approach to the landing. No shots were exchanged. A large force was left at and still holds the ferry. The rest of the island is covered by detached posts, and sufficiently guarded to prevent the landing of a force at any point without being immediately discovered. The position is deemed a strong one for defence, and can be held against any force now on the main land. The troops are all encamped for the present on the outskirts of the town. Gen. Stevens' headquarters are in the house formerly occupied by the Rev. John J. Smith."

Protection to Overland Emigrants.—Cimonton writes from Washington to the San Francisco Bulletin, under date Jan. 26th:

The House, yesterday, passed the Senate bill appropriating $25,000 for the better protection of the overland emigration to California and Oregon. Last year $50,000 was appropriated for this purpose, of which $30,000 was judiciously expended under the order of the War Department, in helping along the emigration, protecting it from Indian depredations, etc. The balance of last year's appropriation, together with that now made, leaves $45,000 at the disposal of the Secretary of War, which will doubtless be made of great service during next spring and summer, when it is presumed the overland emigration will be very heavy. Mr. Sargent of California supported the bill briefly, stating that the expenditure of the $30,000 last year resulted in saving a vast amount of property, as well as many lives. The manner in which the operation was conducted under the bill (he said) was this: Cattle and other supplies taken along upon the overland emigrant route and as this vast emigration came along to the various points they were assisted by this Army officer and his company, their worn-out cattle exchanged for better ones, and thus they were enabled to go through without that immense suffering and loss which occurred to the emigration of previous years. Another feature of it, and perhaps the most important and valuable one, is that at slight expense backwoodsmen and frontiersmen, men familiar with Indian warfare, were induced to place their rifles upon their shoulders and go out with these overland emigrants to protect them against the incursions of the Indians, which in previous years has marked the path of those overland emigrants with victims of barbarous massacre.

The measure is now a law and Hon. Medorum Crawford, of Oregon, has been appointed to take charge of the escort.

From the Sandwich Islands.—The bark A. A. Eldridge, Capt. Calcott, arrived yesterday morning in twenty-two days from Honolulu, with four passengers and 300 tons of freight—principally Island produce. About 100 tons of freight will be discharged on the Hudson Bay Co's Wharf; and the remaining 200 tons is destined for Portland, Oregon.—British Colonist.

The Next Steamer.—The steamer Pacific, which has been undergoing repairs at the dry-docks at Mare Island, is to leave San Francisco for this port to-day.

The Negro Element.

A few days since the Advertiser published an article, the main points of which were intended to show that slavery was a very humanizing institution for Africans, and that their condition was far better in a state of slavery than while living under the rule of the King of Dahomey. The whole tenor of the article was designed to prove that slavery was a very humanizing and christianizing institution. It presented just the arguments that Yancy would have given in favor of opening the slave trade, and filling the country with negroes, to be stolen and bought in Africa. Of course this is the pure Democratic secesh doctrine. The Memphis Appeal, or Charleston Mercury could not have been more orthodox. Mr. Clay and others in his day, contended that the stealing of negroes in Africa and bringing them to the American Colonies, under British laws, previous to the Revolution, was wrong, and the continuance of them as slaves here was injurious to them and a great injury to the whites; and for that reason he was in favor of sending such slaves as were freed to Africa, and there establish a government, to be placed under the control of blacks, which would be an asylum for freed slaves and other persons of color, where they might enjoy under a government of their own, the rights "of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness,"—and which new government would, as he believed, in the progress of time, exercise an influence in civilizing and christianizing benighted Africa. That project was carried out, and Liberia at this time, if our information be correct, is as well governed a country—where all human rights are enjoyed consistent with the well being of society—as can be found any where, infinitely better governed than many of the Republics of South America.

We have stated these few facts to show that the black man can be improved, and in a reasonable time the black race can be civilized and educated and christianized—and that Liberia, with her colored population, extended and enriched by industry and improvements, is likely to be able to place herself in a respectable condition among the nations of the earth.

The Advertiser's arguments aim to prove that the negro should always be kept in slavery; that he is satisfied to remain in slavery; and that it is best for him in all time to remain under the control of the white man, subject to his whip and chain as the best position for him and the white race. His argument, if it have any force, would justify the opening of the slave trade and the filling of Oregon with slaves.

We have no design to waste our time in replying to these arguments. Slavery was at the bottom of the Southern rebellion. Men in the South desired the establishment of a government based upon human slavery. They desired no States or communities to make part of that government unless they were ready to adopt this basis. They were not satisfied to live under a government where the States were partly slave and partly free.

Southern men of profound knowledge have believed that an attempt to establish such a government as Toombs and Floyd, and their compeers call for, would result in freeing the slaves of the South. This they avowed at the South, and their declarations on record, are a part of the history of the country. We shall see whether these declarations shall prove to be prophetic.

It has been the habit in latter years in the northern slave States, when a slave is restive and troublesome—when the chain galls his flesh, and the iron enters into his soul, to sell him to the negro trader, by whom he is sent South for a market. Such negroes, enlightened too much for their own comfort, impart their knowledge to those with whom they are herded. And hence, in all the South, scarcely a gang of slaves can be found where there are not those who are restive under the yoke of slavery. These slaves have heard the Northern people denounced by their masters, have heard the same lies that have been reiterated by demagogues here, that the North are for giving freedom to the slaves, and have made war upon the South for this purpose—just such lies as teem in the Advertiser—and it is not strange that they should believe them: and if slavery shall terminate in the South, it will be more the work of slave masters there, and slave worshippers here than of any movement on the part of the Federal Government.

This article is much longer than we had designed to make it; and we shall close it by giving extracts from letters by newspaper reporters who are with the army which landed at Port Royal, South Carolina, as exhibiting the movements and feelings of slaves there, when they were able to escape from the control of their masters.

The correspondent of the New York Commercial at Hilton Head, writes:

"The negroes everywhere, in two districts, are at work collecting, baling, and rolling cotton. Thousands of them have been set at their task, for which they are paid at the rate of a dollar for every hundred pounds they deliver. They labor with alacrity under this unwonted stimulus; various assistants and clerks have been appointed to oversee their performances, and though they need to be constantly directed and skillfully managed, yet a good deal of work is really gotten out of them. This is proven by the fact, that in less than three days, over $50,000 worth of cotton was put aboard the steamboat which accompanied Col. Nobles; all this cotton had been baled by the negroes themselves, and the bags made by them; it was then conveyed to the various landings, at no one of which there is a wharf. The supply of bags having been incomplete, some thousand sand bags were supplied them, and these had to be first placed in flat boats, then towed out to the steamer, and again removed to the decks, before the labors of the blacks were completed. The old drivers were generally retained, to find out the hands and bring them up to the places where their labor was required. Since the negroes have discovered that they will be paid for their exertions, they have brought in some that was hid in the interior, and manifested great care to preserve and obtain as much as possible. I have heard some instances of their giving warning in advance when their masters or the rebel soldiers contemplated any new harrassings."

The correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, writes from Port Royal an account of the visit of several United States vessels at Bull's Bout Inlet. It was found after some shots had been fired that the rebels had abandoned the Fort in great haste, leaving tents standing, commissary stores, arms, and every description of equipage. On landing next morning, negroes came floating in by the hundreds, who stated that the rebels, numbering four or five hundred fled on the appearance of the fleet.

"The negroes began coming aboard the vessels the very night of their entrance into the river, bringing intelligence of the whereabouts and the movements of various small bodies of the rebels scattered along the banks, telling, in some instances, what cotton houses would next be burnt, pointing out residences where troops (never more than fifteen or twenty together) were stationed; informing of the force at Rockville, offering their services as guides, as spies, as oarsmen, as pilots, and in one or two cases asking for arms. They were received but assured that they might return if they chose, but they begged to be taken to Port Royal, manifesting the greatest fear of their masters, and invariably declaring that they would be shot if they went back. They had come direct from the plantations where they were at work when the vessels began firing, had fled without bringing any of their little property, some without hats or coats, and what clothes they had stuck full of cotton; they told that they had escaped by various devices, pretending to go for boats for 'Massa,' to put his children in places of safety, and even to drive the other 'niggers.' They had left their own wives and children, but dare not return to bring them. Next day the others came, but more deliberately, bringing presents of fowl and eggs to those whom they considered their deliverers. These presents were not received, the officers insisting on paying for what was taken. Other negroes went slowly by in their flat-boats, with piles of plunder, manifesting no apprehension that they should be hindered."

This was the effect of the presence of some Federal vessels, which brought out the feeling and intelligence of the negroes. This was within twelve miles of Charleston, and the whole slave population of the district was, to all intents and purposes, free.

"These blacks, said to be so much 'attached to their masters,' fleeing from their kind masters, who were threatening to shoot them, come flocking about the ships in such numbers that it was impossible to convey them all to Port Royal, so Captain Dreyton determined to establish a colony at the mouth of North Edisto Inlet, which he did, and ordered the gun-boat Penguin, lying off there, to guard them. The negroes manifested their sorrow at parting with their masters and receiving Federal protection, by clapping their hands, dancing and singing hymns, for hours, around the camp fires of their new colony."

In Missouri the negroes are so much "attached to their masters," that they are compelled to go off to Arkansas and Texas, at the point of the bayonet,—those who do not run to the Free States. Under the pressure of affairs Missouri is rapidly losing her colored population.

One of the prisoners recently returned from Richmond, says:

"The sales of negroes, usual at the close of the year, have been nearly twice as large as on the preceding years. It is manifest that this property is not considered secure in Virginia. The shambles of Richmond, Norfolk and Winchester are unusually lively."

A correspondent at Port Royal writes thus to the Pittsburgh Gazette:

"There are two classes of slaves in the cotton States, as in those of the border: the field hands, black in complexion, bewhipped almost daily, and locked up for safety at night, and the household servants, the offspring of incestuous intercourse between master, and good looking yellow girls, who themselves are the children of white men. I have seen a young girl in Washington, with light-brown smooth hair, clear rosy complexion, and blue eyes, who, I was informed, was a slave. I had previously heard of such cases, but attached small credit to the reports; my informant being resolved to satisfy my doubts showed me the girl, and we questioned her as to her history.

"In a perfectly artless manner she told us she was born in Texas, and that at sixteen years of age her owner and father made her his mistress, brought her to Washington, and lived with her there until the secession of his State, when he went South, taking with him his new concubine, her youngest sister, also his own daughter. The girl seemed surprised at my astonishment and disgust, informing me, with the greatest naivete, 'Why, I belong to him!'"

The Advertiser may thus learn that there is something of the amalgamating business, which he so much dreads in progress in his beloved secesh South.

Resolved, That in case of vacancy at the County Convention from this precinct, that the delegates present are authorized to fill such vacancy

Resolved, That a copy of the proceedings of this meeting be furnished to all the newspapers of this city, (except the Advertiser), with request to publish.

R. J. Ladd,
H. A. Hogue,
Secretaries.

Frauds on the Government.—Mr. Hale, Jan. 9th, in the Senate, introduced a bill to punish frauds on the Treasury of the United States. It provides that any person who, by any false or fraudulent pretence, pretext, device, contrivance, or representation, shall, directly or indirectly, procure any money from the Treasury, or from any person or corporation legally charged with the collection, custody, or disbursement of any part of the money of the United States, shall pay a fine not less than the sum fraudulently obtained, and be punished by imprisonment at hard labor for not less than one year nor more than ten years, according to the aggravation of the offence. The term "money" is to include any bank bills, Treasury notes, bonds, or other obligations or promises of the Government to pay money. The Circuit and District Courts of the United States are to have jurisdiction of these offences. Persons subject to the military or naval laws are, in addition to the penalties of the bill, to be subject to trial be a court-martial, and be liable to suffer death by its sentence. Every officer of the United States, in whatever employment, is to give information to the proper district attorney or the grand jury of any offences under the bill, and half the fine to go to the person giving the information. It was read twice and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

☞ Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL, and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

☞ Californians should test the merits of Dr. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs, and of various kinds of fevers. It is the very article that has so long been in demand at the mines. Its daily use will restore the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitter is the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitter, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health.—Sold by Druggists and dealers everywhere. 16 at

☞ The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. J. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy, with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Riebrd is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe; and Dr. Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country, as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary ad eundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. J. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert, that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please enclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, J. J. CZAPKAY, M. D., San Francisco, Cal. ## To the Republicans of Oregon.

The w Arraigned were instructed at the last State Convention to Convene the Republicans of the State at their next meeting at Eugene City.

Events of mo se transpired since the meeting of the last State Convention could not then be foreseen, and issues are now presented to the people, paramount to all issues that heretofore divided political parties

While we often go right to dissolve the Republican organization we see any cause to recant any political principle heretofore held by us, yet believing that the vital issue now before the people is the preservation or destruction of our institutions, we are unwilling to do anything to distract the Union sentiment in the coming canvass, and therefore have deemed it unwise to call a party convention with a view to the support of a distinctively party ticket.

In taking this course, we have been guided by the example of Republicans throughout the State, and on his part a desire on our part, to avoid any barrier to the hearty support of a Union ticket by the loyal support of the State without regard to former political differences

History testifies the fact that the Fathers of our common country that they had cemented a perpetual Union; that are only traitors who have now attempted to overthrow it; we therefore call upon one and all to the preservation of the priceless inheritance bequeathed to us by the of late Republic. He that neglects, for any fiftieth cause at this time, to testify his devotion to our country as a government that has made us the most prosperous and favored people on the face of the Globe, is not worthy the name of American citizen! We therefore trust to the fairness and patriotism of the loyal people of this State, to show by unanimity at the coming convention and election, their abhorrence of secession and treason and their love of country, its prosperity and perpetuity

We therefore earnestly recommend to the Republican voters of the State, that without regard to party, they unite in the coming canvass, heartily unite in nominating and supporting a ticket composed of Union men who will be found to stand fully embraced in the call which is herewith published.

Multnomah Union Convention.

The loyal citizens of Multnomah County, who are in favor of the suppression of the present wicked rebellion, who are opposed to any peace other than the honorable one sure to come when rebels and their sympathizers submit to the constitutionally elected and qualified authorities, and legally elected laws of the Government—who think more of country than of party prejudice and individual preference—who are in favor of supporting the general government in its endeavors to do away with the Constitution, execute the laws, and preserve the Union, and who are willing to unite for the election of a ticket upon such a basis at the coming general election, without reference to former political associations, who are opposed to any peace other than the honorable one sure to come when rebels and their sympathizers submit to the constitutionally elected and qualified authorities, and legally elected laws of the Government, and who are in favor of all efforts to suppress the rebellion, maintain and uphold the laws by all the means at its command, and are willing to respond to the call made for a Union State Convention, are invited to meet in their several precincts, at the usual place of voting, at one o'clock on Saturday, the 22d day of March, 1862, and elect delegates to a Union County Convention, to be held at the Court House, in Portland, on Saturday, the 29th day of March, 1862, for the purpose of electing eight delegates to the Union State Convention, to be held in Eugene City on the 9th day of April, 1862. The precincts are entitled, upon the basis of the popular vote, to delegates as follows. North Portland, 10, Portland, 20; Multnomah, 2; Powells Valley, 3, Willamette, 2; Sandy, 2; St. John's, 1; Sauvie's Island

Of all diseases, the first great cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret disease—Self Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages Strictures, Gleet, Gravel Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism Scrofula, Pains in the Bones, and Ankles diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers Dropsy, Epilepsy Fits or St Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling Loss of Memory Loss of Power, General Weakness Diseases of Vision, with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness Dyspepsia, Liver Disease Eruptions upon the Face Pains in the Back and Head Female irregularities—and all impurities or discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case recovery is certain and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be offered by any other treatment even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure The most diseases prescribed more pleasant, without odor entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands, who, in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care a speedy and permanent cure Private diseases are the great enemies to health, as they are the first cause to consumption scrofula, and many other diseases and shall be a terror to the human family A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of the imperient persons, who not only fail to cure the disease but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury which with the disease hastens the victim into a rapid consumption But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries the disease is entailed upon the children who are born with feeble constitution and the current of life contaminated by a virus which breaks itself in scrofula, fetter, ulcerations and other affections on the skin, upon the throat and lungs entailing upon them a short existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health for nothing else in the shape of custom can undermine man's health so destructive a draught upon the system—dreading its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering, down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system rapidly wastes away the energies of life unsexes mental feelings incapacitates the proper development of the system disqualifies for marriage, society business and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of ills more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected with the abandonment of ruinous practices, my patients can be restored to robust vigor in health.

Irregularities and all diseases of male and females treated on principles established by fifteen years practice and sanctioned by the wonders of the most remarkable cures Medicines, with full directions sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter

All business correspondence strictly confidential Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute Sacramento street, below Montgomery opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co's Office, San Francisco

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the sponge of diseases, who, having recovered their former health and impelled by gratitude make known their cases and remedial agent and their statements are authenticated by a Notary Public. The demands of society imperiously command their publicity and we comply and their perusal to the astonishment of all afflicted

Certificate—The undersigned desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted with a permanent relief of their sufferings may be induced to publicly express his sincere gratitude to Dr L J Czapkay, for the restoration of his health Borne down by the direful symptoms in addition to the villainous practices of unscrupulous pretenders in physic, depressed in body and mind unable to find relief from the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance—but alas after a few weeks and in several instances months of their treatment I found my manifestations of relief my complaints became more alarming, in their nature and being told by one that my disease being principally confined to the brain, medicine would be of little consequence I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength and energy and as a last resort and with but a faint hope called upon Dr Czapkay who after examining my case, presented some pills which almost instantly relieved me of the fullness and distress in my head I encouraged by the result resolved to place myself immediately under his care and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, my head became clear and my ideas collected, the constant pain in my back and groins the weakness of my limbs, the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement the misanthropy and evil forebodings the self-distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapability to study and want of resolution, of a frightful exciting and at times pleasurable dream and night Digged by involuntary discharges, have disappeared, and in fact in two months after having put myself under the treatment of the above doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—For I was but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand With the view to guard the unfortunate from the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. L. J. Czapkay and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience that under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected

DR L J CZAPKAY San Francisco—Sir: I have just finished your medicine and do not think I shall need any more as I feel very well except that I have not quite got my strength yet but soon will with the appetite. It is just three weeks you may recollect, since I commenced your institute with my constitution so I thought entirely and never thought you would be able to cure me entirely but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and still more so as that I would not get excited and to [illegible] anything. Now that you know what I expected, you must judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery [illegible] myself now and the removal of those sores and [illegible] my skin, and the others from my face, and the [illegible] poke of those confessions, which you assured me [illegible] must follow sickness I can hardly tell you what [illegible] to my surprise for except not being able to get my strength I feel as well as any man can feel.

I inclosed I send you twenty dollars over your [illegible] think myself cheaply cured If you think any body [illegible] benefited, you must put the letter in the newspaper [illegible] do not get totally [illegible]
